

What is the New York State Bar Exam?

Step 1 of Four Steps

The New York State Bar Exam is a two-day examination that tests a candidate's knowledge of law. It is the first step in the process of becoming a lawyer in New York. The exam is divided into two parts: the Multiple Choice section and the Essay section. The Multiple Choice section consists of 100 questions, and the Essay section consists of three essays. The exam is held twice a year, in July and January. Candidates must pass the exam in order to be eligible to practice law in New York.

The New York State Bar Exam is a two-day examination that tests a candidate's knowledge of law. It is the first step in the process of becoming a lawyer in New York. The exam is divided into two parts: the Multiple Choice section and the Essay section. The Multiple Choice section consists of 100 questions, and the Essay section consists of three essays. The exam is held twice a year, in July and January. Candidates must pass the exam in order to be eligible to practice law in New York.

The New York State Bar Exam is a two-day examination that tests a candidate's knowledge of law. It is the first step in the process of becoming a lawyer in New York. The exam is divided into two parts: the Multiple Choice section and the Essay section. The Multiple Choice section consists of 100 questions, and the Essay section consists of three essays. The exam is held twice a year, in July and January. Candidates must pass the exam in order to be eligible to practice law in New York.